ADVANCE Institute’s 2016 Spring Series for Women Associate Professors

The ADVANCE Institute is hosting a series of events to connect and network women associate professors from all departments around discussions and topics that are critical to their career progression. RSVP appreciated (click here).

Panel: Promotion to Full Professor
Co-sponsored by ADVANCE and the Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs, the panel includes a diversity of disciplines, perspectives, and experiences on the promotion process to full professor.

Brown-Bag Lunch Discussion: “Timing for Promotion to Full Professor”
When is the right time to go up for promotion? How do you know when you’re ready? Moderated by full professors, this discussion will address these and other questions about timing for the promotion to full professor. Bring your lunch—dessert and drinks will be provided.

April 8, 2016
12:15-1:15
UD ADVANCE Institute
102B Pearson Hall

Brown-Bag Lunch Discussion: “Funding Strategies”
Deputy Provost for Research and Scholarship Dr. Charlie Riordan will join us for an interactive discussion on strategies for funding your research. While geared toward grant-funded STEM faculty, this event is open to all departments. Bring your lunch—dessert and drinks will be provided.

Wednesday, May 11
12:15-1:15
UD ADVANCE Institute
102B Pearson Hall

Contact us: 302-831-3028 | ud-advance@udel.edu | @udadvance | www.udel.edu/advance