The Center for Teaching & Assessment of Learning is now enrolling graduate students and post-docs in our graduate pedagogy course for Spring 2018.

This course explores best-practices in course design, and explores the cognitive, affective, and social aspects of the learning process. Through this course, students will produce a syllabus for a course of their own design.

Wednesday
4:40-6:40pm
116 Pearson Hall
0-credit

Enrollment and registration is managed through CTAL. Please email us at CTAL-info@udel.edu to request enrollment in the course.

A 0-credit course is one that appears on your formal transcript, but that you do not have to pay tuition for.
