Spring 2024 Semester Reminders

- Please remember to check your registration on WebReg / UDSIS. If anything seems amiss, reach out to your advisor.
 - The free drop/add period ends on February 16. This means that you will have the ability to make changes to your schedule up until that date.
 - Check your email diligently! Professors may have important things to say about early assignments, directions to classroom spaces, textbooks, CANVAS, etc. Academic Advisors may also be reaching out with important information.
 - As always, reach out to honors@udel.edu with any honors-related questions!
 - Check to make sure that you are registered in the Honors section of a course (typically sections numbered 08_) if you intend to do the Honors work in the course and earn Honors credit.
 - If there is an Honors Degree in your major (see Current Honors Degrees), be sure to review the information available on our website at Declaring your Honors Degree, and Degree Options and Honors Degree FAQs.

Every Student Deserves a Mentor

Join the UD Career Mentoring Program

Are you a Junior or Senior student? Sign-Up for a Blue Hen Alumni Mentor!

The University of Delaware is partnering with Mentor Collective to offer current students a relevant, trained alumni mentor. There's no cost or obligation to participate, but mentors can help students set and achieve goals, make connections, and prepare for their future career.

UD students will be connected with an alumni mentor based on career interests, needs, and preferences.

“My mentor has immensely helped me make progress towards my goals. In fact, he actually helped me achieve my goal early and move on to other goals! He has offered advice, told me about his own experience, and helped me answer other questions I've had.”

Opportunities

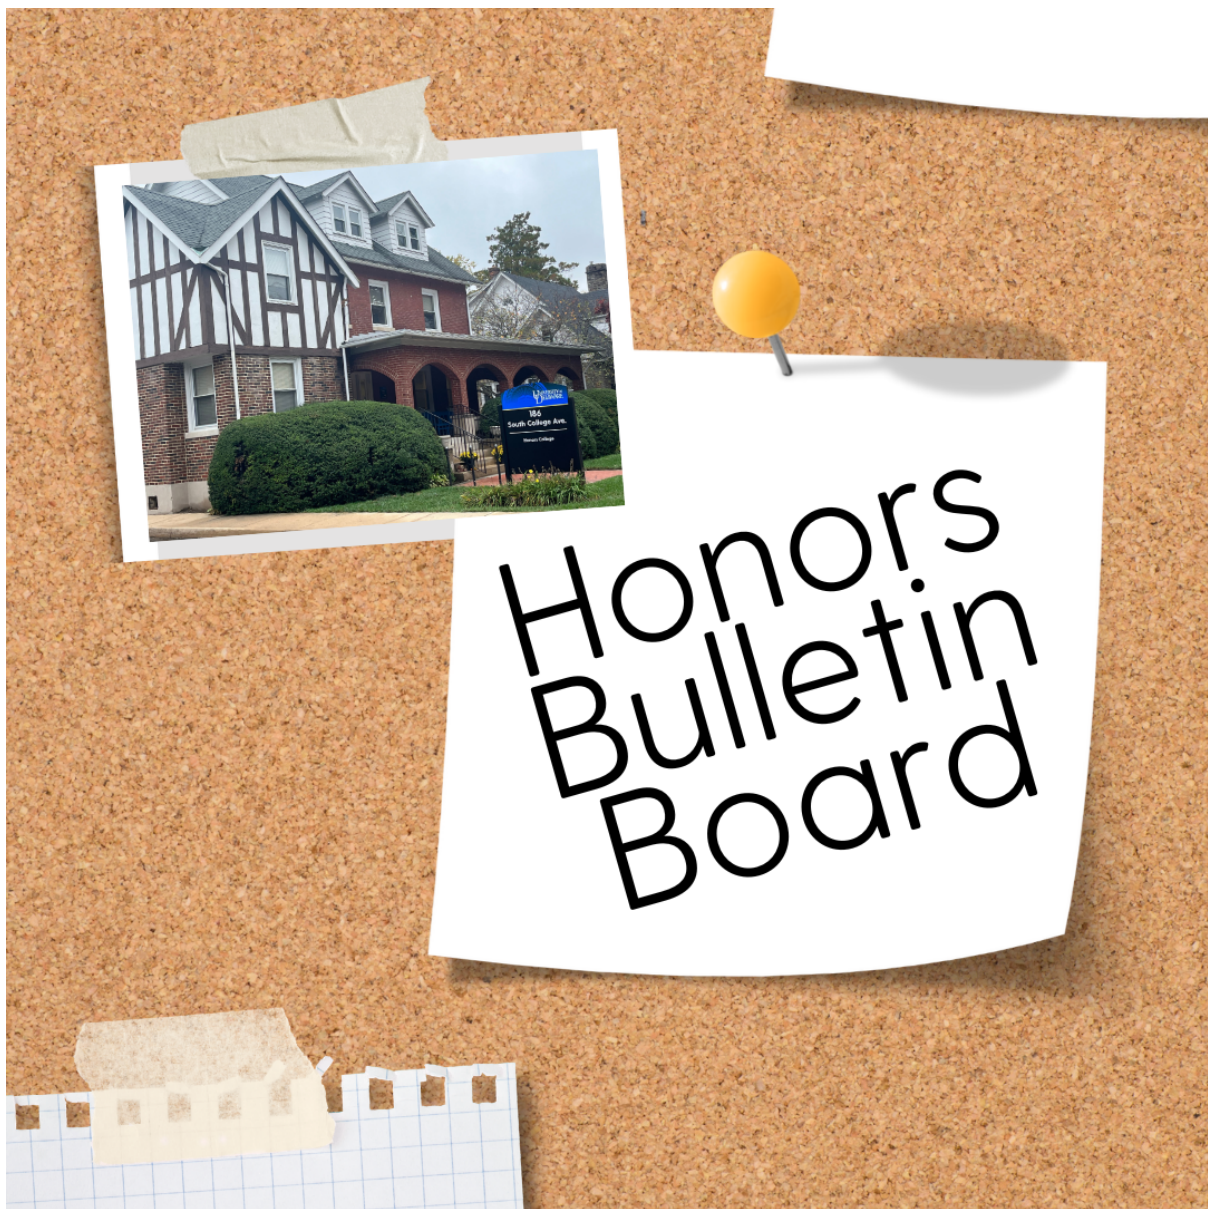

Career Mentoring - Honors College students: sign up now for career mentoring with a Blue Hen Alumni Mentor! UD Honors College partners with Mentor Collective to offer a mentor that matches your career goals and interests for an entire academic year. Once you've completed an online survey about your interests, you are matched with an alumni mentor with similar career interests and experiences, then you'll decide how often to communicate, whether it's in person or through Zoom, texts, or emails. Find out more about the program, read about Honors student Julia Sonn's experience with the mentoring program, and Enroll Now!

Regional Undergraduate Student Research Conference - We invite you to submit an abstract or proposal to the 10th Annual Regional Undergraduate Student Research Conference to be held at the University of Delaware on April 6, 2024. This conference will showcase the research of undergraduate students at UD and our partner institutions, Delaware State University and Lincoln University. This year's theme, "Climate Change and Changing Climates Across the Disciplines," invites presenters to consider the myriad of ways that social and environmental climate changes are impacting humanity. Abstract/ proposal submissions for paper and poster presentations are limited to 250 words and due no later than February 2, 2024. Students should submit their abstracts/proposals here. Find out more information here or contact Regina Wright or Kimberly Blockett.

Summer Opportunities - Want to learn about summer research programs and experiences out there? Take a look at summer research experiences for undergraduates in STEM, as well as summer programs and experiences available for all majors.

University of Delaware Alternative Breaks (UDaB): Apply to participate in an alternative spring break service trip! These experiences are more than just spring break – they are opportunities to learn about a social justice issue, engage in ethical service with a community, and learn while also having fun with your peers. These programs are open to any student in any year at UD. There are 5 programs you can apply for, and financial aid is available. Find out more and apply here.
