I. Organization and Procedures

A. Department Membership

The Department of Food and Resource Economics is comprised of the following members.

1. Tenure Track Faculty

Tenure Track Faculty include all regular, full-time faculty on tenure track on either 11 or 9-month appointments, including Tenure Track Extension Faculty.

2. Tenure Track Faculty on Joint Appointments

Tenure Track Faculty on Joint Appointments are Tenure Track Faculty from other Departments at the University of Delaware who have been recognized and admitted as faculty in the Department of Food and Resource Economics.

   a. Criteria for Joint Appointments. The following are the criteria for Joint Appointments in the Department of Food and Resource Economics:

      (1) The candidate must be a Tenure Track Faculty in a related field.

      (2) The candidate is expected to contribute to the department in a meaningful way to the research, teaching, or service functions of the programs in the department. Meaningful contributions include such things as offering a seminar, serving as a guest lecturer, providing internship advisement, teaching a course, participating in a research project, or graduate/thesis committee service.

      (3) The candidate must be sponsored by a Faculty member to become an Joint Appointment Faculty.

   b. Process for Admittance to Joint Appointment Faculty

      (1) Submission of a statement of sponsorship by a Department Faculty member

      (2) Submission of a statement of application by the candidate;

      (3) Submission of a CV by the candidate;

      (4) An invitation for a department seminar or lecture in a class where department members have an opportunity to meet with the candidate

      (5) A vote by the department Tenure Track Faculty (requiring a simple majority to pass).
c. Four Year Review

(1) Each Joint Appointment Faculty member will be subject to a four-year review to determine continuance in this status.

(2) The review will be initiated by the Department Chair and voted upon at a Department meeting.

(3) The key criteria for re-appointment to Joint Appointment Faculty status is whether the Joint Appointment Faculty member has and will continue to contribute in a meaningful way to the programs, research, or teaching of the department.

3. Instructional Faculty

Instructional Faculty have responsibilities for scheduled University course instruction and related student advisement as well as for instructional support activities, as designated in the Faculty Handbook.

4. Clinical Faculty

Clinical Faculty have major responsibilities in clinical supervision and instruction (including for example, clinical nursing supervision, student teaching, internships, field placements, and practicums) and/or professional practice supervision (including for example, HRIM and business practices) with the balance of workload involving regularly scheduled instructional and advisement responsibilities as well as related professional and scholarly contributions, as designated in the Faculty Handbook.

5. Public Service Faculty

Public Service Faculty have major responsibilities for college (or departmental/school) based public service programs (including applied research, technical assistance, and community and professional development training and education) with on-going responsibilities for regularly scheduled undergraduate and/or graduate instruction and advisement, and with the balance of workload involving clinical and professional practice supervision, and related professional and scholarly contributions, as designated in the Faculty Handbook.

6. Professionals

Professional include all other full-time Extension, research or teaching related positions not covered under the University of Delaware’s Faculty Handbook.

7. Adjunct Faculty Adjunct Faculty are individuals outside the department who are granted special status because of their academic achievements and contributions to the department and its programs.

   a. Criteria for Adjunct Status. The following are the criteria for Adjunct Faculty in the Department of Food and Resource Economics:

      (1) The candidate for Adjunct status should have at least a MA/MS degree, and preferably a terminal degree in their field (Ph.D., Ed.D., MBA, law degree).
(2) The candidate is expected to contribute to the department in a meaningful way to the research, teaching, or service functions of the programs in the department. Meaningful contributions include such things as offering a seminar, serving as a guest lecturer, providing internship advisement, teaching a course, participating in a research project, or graduate/thesis committee service.

(3) The candidate must be sponsored by a Faculty member to become an Adjunct Faculty member.

b. Process for Admittance to Adjunct Faculty Status

(1) Submission of a statement of sponsorship by a department Faculty member

(2) Submission of a statement of application by the candidate;

(3) Submission of a CV by the candidate;

(4) An invitation for a department seminar or lecture in a class where department members have an opportunity to meet with the candidate

(5) A vote by the department Faculty (requiring a simple majority to pass).

c. Two Year Review

(1) Each Adjunct Faculty member will be subject to a two-year review to determine continuance in this status.

(2) The review will be initiated by the Department Chair and voted upon at a Department meeting.

(3) The key criteria for re-appointment to Adjunct Faculty status is whether the Adjunct Faculty member has and will continue to contribute in a meaningful way to the programs, research, or teaching of the department.

B. Department Meetings

During the academic year, department meetings will be held as needed, but at least once every semester.

1. Agenda

Proposed agenda items must be submitted to the Chairperson’s office. The agenda for the department meeting shall be prepared by the Chairperson and distributed at least 24 hours prior to the meeting. The agenda can be modified during the meeting by a majority vote of those attending the meeting.

2. Quorum

Fifty percent, plus one shall constitute a quorum. The Department shall abide by its own rules of procedure, but in cases where it has adopted no explicit rules, or where applicability or interpretation of the rules is in doubt, Robert’s Rule of Order Newly Revised shall govern. Adjunct faculty may attend department meetings but do not have voting privileges.
3. Voting Privileges
