The Division of Student Life contributes and facilitates critical learning and development within healthy, inclusive and supportive communities so that all students may thrive at UD and beyond.

CSC empowers undergraduate and graduate students to develop and achieve their professional aspirations during their time at UD and beyond by providing personalized and industry-specific career counseling and coaching, career exploration and professional development programming, connections to employers and alumni, and digital career resources. The center manages a robust employer engagement program that includes career fairs, networking events, internship and job opportunities, on-campus interviews, and information sessions.

CBC serves as an informational resource center for a range of University and community constituents; assists students with transitioning to University life; provides a supportive environment that encourages identity and leadership development as well as belonging; advocates for the needs and interests of Black and other underrepresented students; and develops and implements a full range of diversity programs and services.

CCSD provides confidential individual/group counseling and psychiatric care to students; programs career and student development workshops; and offers consultations for students/parents/staff/professionals/faculty.

LGBT Program offers education, advocacy, and resources related to Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer and Questioning (LGBTQ) students’ experiences on campus; promotes education around sexual orientation and gender identity and expression through ally trainings and presentations; and advocates for the needs of LGBTQ students and connects them to relevant and needed campus resources.

NSO facilitates comprehensive orientation programming for all first-year and transfer undergraduate students and their families; and offers extended orientation and transition programs including Summit, an outdoor orientation experience, and 1743 Welcome Days.

OSS serves as the central resource for students, parents, faculty, and staff when navigating complex issues of the student experience. They work alongside students experiencing medical, emotional, psychological, familial or financial difficulties to provide thoughtful interventions. ODS champions the holistic wellbeing of all students at the University of Delaware.

OSC fosters ethical standards and engaged citizens by providing services and protecting the community from disruption and harm; and offers educational and leadership opportunities for students.

RLH partners with students and campus colleagues to create a once-in-a-lifetime community experience where students learn, contribute, thrive and achieve their aspirations; encourages residents to share diverse perspectives and form positive relationships; creates communities that promote student success; and develops environments where all students can feel a sense of belonging and are able to fully engage in the residence hall experience.

SHS provides students with a full range of primary health care, medical treatment and referral services; offers health education programming; and supports the physical and emotional wellbeing of all students.

SZA assists student athletes in transitioning to University life; works closely with coaches, faculty and student services personnel to help student athletes balance the demands of their responsibilities; and provides counseling, academic support, workshops, teaching, and special programs for student athletes, and supervises the HENS Peer Mentoring program.

SWHP cultivates a healthy, safe community that inspires students to succeed; engages all members of the UD community in health promotion and prevention strategies that empower students; and works closely with Opt4, POW, SOS, Men’s Action Network, and Collegiate Recovery Community student groups.

USC serves as campus community centers and unifying places for students/faculty/staff/alumni/guests; offers diverse programming, events, and services in support of exploration and personal growth; and provides inclusive opportunities and communities to foster spirit, interpersonal connections, and leadership development.

The Vice President for Student Life, in collaboration with their executive council, oversees all units and supervises staff in the areas of business administration, assessment and engagement, communication management, and student diversity and inclusion.
