

The Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice, with the Center for Energy and Environmental Policy, presents...

Sacrifice Zones: The Front Lines of Toxic Chemical Exposure in the United States

May 12th

12-1:30 PM

Perkins Student Center

Ewing Room

Free and open to the public

Steve Lerner discusses his new book on how low-income and minority communities are disproportionately exposed to toxic pollutants from heavy industrial sites and how these communities organize and take action to address environmental injustice.

Co-sponsored by:

The Disaster Research Center (DRC)

The Sociology Club

For more information, contact Dr. Perez at: <http://sites.udel.edu/victorp/>

Steve Lerner is Research Director of Commonweal, a health and environmental research institute. He is the author of numerous books, including Diamond: A Struggle for Environmental Justice in Louisiana's Chemical Corridor (2005).

Book signing and books available for purchase after discussion.

