

Lineage from George Soule to Rebecca Faunce Maxham

George Soule was a passenger on the Mayflower, and it is easily possible to trace the path of his descendants to Rebecca Faunce. We know that Rebecca Faunce married Edmund Maxham, Jr. and one of their children was Silas Maxham.

The lineage is taken completely from Mayflower Births and Deaths (Volume 2) by Susan E. Rosser, Genealogical Publishing Company, Baltimore, 1992. All of the events that are listed in this lineage are taken from records of Middleboro, MA.

Page 269 states that George Soule and his wife Mary had nine children, and one of these children was a son named John Soule, who was born about 1632 and died before November 14, 1707.

Page 273 indicates that John Soule married Rebecca Simmons, the daughter of Moses Simmons, and that the couple had nine children. One of these children was a son named James Soule who was born about 1659 and died August 27, 1744.

Page 281 states that James Soule married Lydia Tomson and that they had 5 children, including a daughter Martha Soule who was born April 11, 1696 and died after March 20, 1746.

Page 282 states that Martha Soule married Joseph Faunce and that the couple had seven children. One of these children was James Faunce who was born December 6, 1723 and died before 1766.

Page 282 also states that James Faunce married Abigail Rickard who was born about 1723 and died March 29, 1777. The couple had four children, including a daughter named Rebecca Faunce who was born July 23, 1748.
